thin white finger jabs out of the sky thousand mouths gape zeros as solitary firework blossoms on the horizon exotic flower trailing white stalk graph of catastrophic descent slower and slower with every replay as the impact is cushioned into safe landing of seed anchoring in soft earth. commentaries bubble to the surface and clot in the holes where the pain recedes to a pinprick of fingers picking at the scar reassuring themselves they can trace the vaporous line of cause and effect that was blown away even before the first syllable could be uttered blown away on the wind dispersing the spores of this accident to drop silently into a thousand y a w n i n g m o u t h s
